Rrrrrrrr Numb. 4791

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, February 27. 1717.

London, February 27.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

From the Hague Courant, dated March 6.

Buda, February 16.

WE have Advice from Hermanstadt in Transilvania, that the Imperial Colonel Dettine, had without great Loss, made himself Master of the small Town of Turn on the Danube; as also of a fortify'd Tower in it, after having kill'd 100 of the Enemy. He took Prisoners in that Place, seven principal Turks, and a Gentlewoman with her three Sons, and burnt a Magazine, wherein a great Quantity of Wheat was laid up. Yesterday arriv'd several Recruits for the Regiment of Bagni. The Convoy of Provisions that was sent from hence, and from Pest to Segedin, is arrived there, and will be distributed among the Troops. The Regiments that lie in Hungary have received Notice from the Imperial Council of War, to hold themselves ready to march. Two Days ago pass'd thro' this City, a Bishop coming from Wallachia, and going to Vienna.

From the Amst. Cour. dated March 4.

Vienna, Feb. 17. In Regard that the Answer of the Russian Ministers to ours, concerning the Departure of the Russian Troops from the Dutchy of Mecklemberg, and other Territories of the Empire, was not satisfactory, Letters are again sent with further Orders, to the Directors and Princes of the Electorate of Lower Saxony, to form a stronger Army, to lie upon the Frontiers, and secure the Empire; adding, that if it appear necessary, his Imperial Majesty will himself send some of his Troops to their Assistance. The Polish Minister had Yesterday Audience of the Emperor, and notified to him, in the Name of the King his Master, that the Peace between the King and the late Confederates, is at last entirely concluded.

From the Hague Courant, dated March 5.

Vienna, Feb. 20. We are assured, that the Electors of Triers and Palatine, will suddenly come hither, at least the former, who has some Business in Tyrol. On the 17th arrived here from the Austrian Netherlands, the Prince de Ligne, and the Marquis of Margisar, as also from Munich, the Baron Reyssenstein. On the 18th, the Prince of Lobcowitz and Count Pertold arrived here from Prague; also the Bishop Tomaso Jenner, and the Baron Gemmingen from Wallachia, arrived here the same Day, with a Deputation from the Inhabitants of that Principality. There is much Talk of the Skirmishes between the Imperial Regiments on the Frontiers of Hungary, and the Turks; but our Troopers being too covetous for Booty, and therefore sometimes advancing too far, they frequently come short home. According to the Advices from the Frontiers, the Turkish Asiatick Troops that made the last Campaign in Hungary, did not return home as they used to do; and therefore, the Turkish Army will not only be the stronger, but will also be the earlier in the Field; wherefore Orders are sent to all the Regiments, to put themselves into a Condition to enter the Field upon the first Notice. 'Tis expected, that the 2 Regiments who come from the Netherlands, will not be able to join the Army before May. 'Tis strongly talk'd, that the Emperor will take of the King of Poland, 12000 of his Troops into his Service, and that they will be commanded by General Wackerbarth. We hear from Transilvania, that one of our Parties have taken the Turkish Town of Turn upon the Danube, and burnt a Magazine there, wherein several Thousand Sacks of Corn and Meal were laid up; and that the New Hospodar of Wallachia, nam'd by the Sultan, is come to Bucharest with 3000 Turks and Tartars.

From the Amst. Courant, dated March 6.

Warsaw, Feb. 19. The Chancellor of the great Dutchy of Lithuania, and the Waywoods of Wilna, Trotz, Lenckzyck and Masovia, are returned home, after the King had express'd great Civilities to the Chancellor, and confer'd on him and the Chevalier Ordon, the Order of the White Eagle. The Saxon General Count Frize is set free from his Confinement. Prince Dolhorucky, Envoy of the Czar of Muscovy, has by a Letter intimated to the upper Field-Marshal, that he has received Advice, that some Polish Companies do not observe the late concluded Pacification, but make new Disturbances in the Waywoodships; and that thereupon he should be obliged for the Preservation of the Peace, to remain some time longer with the Russian Troops in Poland, in order to reduce these roving Companies of Soldiers: But the Field Marshal answer'd him, that there was no Need of Assistance to suppress these turbulent Companies, and that he was powerful enough to bring them to Reason, in case they were not to be dispers'd by pacifick Means.

Posen, Feb. 19. The Saxon Troops have totally evacuated Great-Poland, but the Russians are there still, and fetch in daily Provisions for their Maintenance. We also understand, that more Troops of that Nation are coming out of the Dutchy of Mecklemberg.

Dresden, Feb. 27. The Envoy of Great-Britain has by a Memorial notified to this Court, a treacherous and horrid Design against the King and Nation of Great-Britain. Count Wackerbarth arrived here last Night. The King of Poland is expected here by the End of March. And 'tis reported that the Kings of Denmark and Prussia will also make a Tour hither.

Berlin, Feb. 26. M. Whitworth, the British Envoy, has notified to the King of Prussia, the Discovery of a Conspiracy against the King and Nation of Great Britain.

Hamburgh, March 2. The Russian Troops that were upon their March, have made a Halt upon the Frontiers of the Dutchy of Mecklemberg, declaring, that they must wait there, to see the Issue of the Consultation of the States of Mecklemberg, now assembled at Gustraw, concerning them. The 12 Batallions that were to be transported in the Gallies, lie still in their Quarters. According to the Letters from Schonen, the King of Sweden is indispos'd at Carelscroon. The British Express who is going for Sweden, has received the King of Denmark's Pass to go to Schonen, where he will find the King of Sweden at Carelscroon.

Paris, March 1. Here runs a Report, that the Earl of Mar, who was with the Pretender, is come to the Court of the Queen Dowager of England.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated March 5.

Hague, March 3. The States General, for preventing the Vexations of the Women in the open Country of Brabant, upon the Imposts on Salt, Soap, and other small Consumptions, have issued a new Regulation, whereby all the Commonalties of that Country are Taxed at a certain Sum to be paid to the State for those Duties, so that there will be no further need of Farmers. Mr. Lamothes, Resident of his Britannick Majesty, has presented a Memorial to their High Mightinesses, on Occasion of the Seizure of Count Gyllenborg, and others therein named. This Day was solemniz'd the Thanksgiving, Prayers and Fasting, ordained by the States.

London, Feb. 27.

On Sunday last, the Right Reverend Dr. Blackbourne, was consecrated Bishop of Exeter, at Ely House Chapel, by his Grace the Lord-Archbishop of
